

117TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 5396

To amend title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 to establish standards of liability for harassment on the basis of sex, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SEPTEMBER 28, 2021

Mrs. DINGELL (for herself and Mrs. HAYES) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Education and Labor

A BILL

To amend title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 to establish standards of liability for harassment on the basis of sex, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Title IX Take Respon-5 sibility Act of 2021”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds the following:

8 (1) As the Supreme Court has held in Franklin
9 v. Gwinnett County Public Schools, 503 U.S. 60, 75

1 (1992), and Davis v. Monroe County Board of Education, 526 U.S. 629, 633 (1999), covered entities 2 are liable for harassment on the basis of sex under 3 their education programs and activities under title
4 IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20
5 U.S.C. 12681 et seq.) (referred to in this Act as 6 “title IX”).

8 (2) As courts have properly recognized, experiencing the effects of sexual harassment under an 9 education program or activity, whether perpetrated 10 by employees or agents of the program or activity, 11 by peers of the victim, or by others, can be a form 12 of unlawful and intentional discrimination that in-13 flicts substantial harm on beneficiaries of the pro-14 gram or activity and violates the obligation of a cov-
15 ered entity to maintain a nondiscriminatory environ-
16 ment.
17

18 (3) Title IX protects persons, of any gender, 19 from discrimination on the basis of sex in education
20 programs and activities that receive Federal funding.
21 Supreme Court opinions have established that under 22 title IX, schools are responsible for addressing sex-23 ual harassment, regardless of the location of the 24 harassment, when it impacts a person’s access to an 25 educational program or activity.

1 (4) Perpetrators of sexual harassment and violence at school are not limited to students. Incidents have also involved faculty, administrators, coaches, and other staff members.

5 (5) A school culture that tolerates inappropriate verbal and physical contact and that intentionally or unintentionally discourages reporting these behaviors undermines the emotional, intellectual, and professional growth of millions of young people.

10 (6) Sexual harassment of students, especially among women and girls, students of color, disabled students, and LGBTQ students, is widely prevalent in K–12 and higher education, for example:

14 (A) One in 5 girls ages 14 through 18 have been kissed or touched without their consent, 58 percent of LGBTQ youth ages 13 through 21 are sexually harassed, and children with disabilities are 2.9 times more likely than their peers to be sexually assaulted.

20 (B) Historically marginalized and underrepresented groups are more likely to experience sexual harassment than their peers, with Native American, Black, and Latina girls being more likely than White girls to be forced to have sex when they do not want to do so.

(C) In college, 1 in 4 women, 1 in 15 men, and 1 in 4 transgender, nonbinary, and gender-nonconforming students are sexually assaulted during their time as undergraduates.

(D) One in 3 college women and 1 in 6 college men are survivors of dating violence or domestic violence.

8 (7) Few students report harassment to their 9 schools, often because of shame or self-blame, fear 10 of retaliation, fear of being ignored or disciplined, 11 fear of police or immigration officials, or lack of 12 knowledge of services schools can offer to help.

18 (9) When schools fail to protect survivors, in-19 cluding by offering supportive measures that are de-20 signed to preserve and to restore their equal access 21 to education, survivors often suffer in the form of 22 lower academic achievement, lost scholarships, and 23 lost degrees.

(10) Current title IX regulations issued by the Secretary of Education entitled “Nondiscrimination

1 on the Basis of Sex in Education Programs or Ac-
2 tivities Receiving Federal Financial Assistance” (85
3 Fed. Reg. 30026, May 19, 2020) have made it more 4 difficult for student survivors to report harassment
5 and receive help and pose uniquely burdensome pro-6 cedures for cases of sexual harassment that are not 7 required for any other type of student or staff mis-8 conduct, only further sweeping sexual violence under 9 the rug.

10 (11) Title IX’s language is broad and sweeping, 11 making clear Congress’ intent to open the court-
12 house doors to victims of a wide range of sex dis-
13 crimination in schools. However, since title IX’s pas-14 sage, courts have created barriers that make it ex-
15 traordinarily difficult for survivors to obtain redress 16 from schools through private litigation.

17 (12) In a 5 to 4 opinion in Gebser v. Lago
18 Vista Independent School District, 524 U.S. 274
19 (1998), the Supreme Court held that students sub-20 jected to sexual harassment may receive a damages 21 remedy under title IX only when school officials have 22 “actual notice” of the harassment and are “delib-23 erately indifferent”, or respond in a clearly unre-24 sonable manner, to it.

1 (13) Although they do not affect the relevant 2 standards for individuals to obtain injunctive and 3 equitable relief for harassment on the basis of race, 4 color, sex, national origin, age, or disability under 5 covered programs and activities, Gebser and similar 6 opinions severely limit the availability of remedies 7 for such individuals by imposing new, more stringent 8 standards for recovery of damages under title IX.
9 Yet in many cases, damages are the only remedy
10 that would effectively rectify past harassment.

11 (14) These limitations on effective relief thwart
12 Congress' underlying purpose to protect students 13 from harassment, and they create prohibitively high 14 standards for title IX sexual harassment lawsuits
15 that are more onerous than those applicable to work-16 place sexual harassment lawsuits under title VII of 17 the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000e et 18 seq.). As a result, schools are required to do less to 19 address harassment against their students than to 20 address the same harassment of their employees, 21 meaning that students, who are children and young 22 adults, must suffer worse harassment than adult em-23 ployees before they are entitled to a remedy in court.

24 (15) Some lower courts have added additional 25 onerous barriers under which a school is only liable

1 for its failure to address known sexual harassment
2 if the victim later experiences further actionable sex-3 ual harassment.

4 (16) A Federal court of appeals opinion in 5 Kollaritsch v. Michigan State University Board of 6 Trustees, 944 F.3d 613, 621–24 (6th Cir. 2019), 7 went so far as to foreclose money damages if a vic-
8 tim of sexual harassment does not experience further 9 actionable harassment as a result of the recipient’s 10 deficient response to a complaint, even if the recipi-
11 ent’s conduct causes educational injuries under title
12 IX.

13 (17) Gebser and subsequent opinions create an 14 incentive for covered entities to insulate themselves
15 from knowledge of harassment on the basis of sex 16 rather than adopting and enforcing practices that 17 will minimize the danger of such harassment. The 18 opinions thus undermine the purpose of prohibitions 19 on discrimination in the civil rights laws to induce 20 covered programs or activities to adopt and enforce 21 practices that will minimize the danger that vulner-22 able students or other persons will be exposed to 23 such odious behavior.

24 (18) Legislative action is necessary and appro-
25 priate to reverse Gebser and other court opinions

1 and restore the availability of a full range of rem-
2 edies for harassment based on sex.

3 (19) Restoring the availability of a full range of 4 remedies for harassment will—

5 (A) ensure that students and other persons 6 of federally funded programs and activities have 7 protection from harassment on the basis of sex;

8 (B) encourage covered entities to adopt
9 and enforce meaningful policies and procedures
10 to prevent and remedy harassment;

11 (C) deter incidents of harassment; and

12 (D) provide appropriate remedies for dis-
13 crimination.

14 SEC. 3. PROHIBITION OF HARASSMENT.

15 (a) PROHIBITION OF HARASSMENT.—Section 901 of 16 the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. 1681) is 17 amended by adding at the end the following:

18 “(d) PROHIBITION OF HARASSMENT.—

19 “(1) If an agent or an employee of a covered 20 entity engages in harassment, regardless of where 21 the harassment occurs, on the basis of sex, which is 22 enabled or assisted by the authority exercised as an 23 employee or agent of the covered entity, against a 24 person who is participating in or receiving benefits, 25 services, or opportunities from an education program

1 or activity, or who is attempting to do so, and the 2 harassment alters the aggrieved person's ability to 3 do so, including by creating an intimidating, hostile, 4 or offensive environment, the covered entity is liable 5 for sex discrimination.

6 “(2)(A) If a person who is an agent or em-
7 ployee of a covered entity engages in harassment, re-
8 gardless of where the harassment occurs, on the 9 basis of sex against a person who is participating in 10 or receiving benefits, services, or opportunities from 11 an education program or activity or who is attempt-12 ing to do so—

13 “(i) the harassment is not enabled or as-14 sisted by the authority exercised as an employee 15 or agent of the covered entity;

16 “(ii) the harassment alters the aggrieved
17 person's ability to participate in or receive bene-
18 fits, services, or opportunities from an edu-
19 cation program or activity, including by cre-
20 ating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive envi-21 ronment; and

22 “(iii) the covered entity knew, or in the ex-23 ercise of reasonable care should have known, of 24 the harassment,

1 then the covered entity is liable for sex discrimina-
2 tion unless it can demonstrate that it exercised rea-
3 sonable care to promptly prevent and correct the ef-4 fects of any harassment based on sex.

5 “(B) If a person who is not an agent or em-
6 ployee of a covered entity engages in harassment, re-
7 gardless of where the harassment occurs, on the 8 basis of sex against a person who is participating in 9 or receiving benefits, services, or opportunities from 10 an education program or activity or who is attempt-
11 ing to do so, and the harassment alters the ag-
12 grieved person’s ability to do so, including by cre-
13 ating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environ-
14 ment, and the covered entity knew, or in the exercise 15 of reasonable care should have known, of the harass-16 ment, then the covered entity is liable for sex dis-
17 crimination unless it can demonstrate that it exer-
18 cised reasonable care to promptly prevent and cor-19 rect the effects of any harassment based on sex.

20 “(C) A covered entity shall exercise reasonable 21 care in response to harassment based on sex if any 22 of the following individuals knew, or in the exercise 23 of reasonable care should have known, about the 24 harassment:

1 “(i) An agent or employee who has the au-
2 thority to take action to redress the harass-
3 ment.

4 “(ii) An agent or employee who has the 5 duty to report to an administrator harassment 6 or any other misconduct by others.

7 “(iii) An individual who a harassment vic-
8 tim or reporting party could reasonably believe 9 has this authority or responsibility.

10 “(D) A showing that the covered entity has ex-
11 ercised reasonable care to promptly prevent and cor-12 rect the effects of any harassment based on sex in-13 cludes a demonstration by the covered entity that it 14 has—

15 “(i) established, adequately publicized, and 16 enforced an effective and comprehensive harass-
17 ment prevention policy and complaint procedure
18 that is likely to provide redress and avoid harm 19 without exposing the person subjected to the 20 harassment to undue risk, effort, or expense;

21 “(ii) if requested by the aggrieved person 22 or otherwise deemed necessary to protect the 23 aggrieved person or other persons within the 24 program or activity from a significant ongoing 25 threat, undertaken a prompt, thorough, and im-

1 partial investigation, unless the allegations are 2 patently frivolous;

3 “(iii) provided supportive measures that 4 had the purpose and effect of preserving and 5 restoring the aggrieved person’s equal access to 6 the education program or activity, regardless of 7 whether the aggrieved person requested an in-8 vestigation; and

9 “(iv) after receiving notice, taken other 10 necessary, immediate, and appropriate correc-11 tive action designed to stop the harassment that 12 occurred and correct its effects, regardless of 13 whether the aggrieved person experienced sub-14 sequent harassment.”.

15 (b) CIVIL ACTION.—Section 902 of the Education
16 Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. 1682) is amended—

17 (1) by inserting “(a)” before “Each Federal de-18 partment and agency which is empowered”; and 19 (2) by adding at the end the following:

20 “(b) Any person aggrieved by the failure of a covered 21 entity to comply with this title, including any regulation
22 promulgated pursuant to this title, may bring a civil action 23 in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce such per-24 son’s rights.”.

1 (c) ACTIONS BROUGHT BY AGGRIEVED PERSONS.—
2 Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20
3 U.S.C. 1681 et. seq.) is amended by inserting after section 4 902 the following:

5 “SEC. 902A. ACTIONS BROUGHT BY OR ON BEHALF OF AG-
6 GRIEVED PERSONS.

7 “In an action brought against a covered entity by (in-8 cluding on behalf of) an aggrieved person who has been 9 subjected to discrimination prohibited under this title (in-10 cluding its implementing regulations), the plaintiff may re-11 cover equitable and legal relief (including compensatory 12 and punitive damages), and attorney’s fees (including ex-13 pert fees).”.
